Q4FY11 Preview

Positive View

Expect better Q4 vs 9MFY11; but orderintake disappoints

Our construction sector coverage stocks have underperformed the respective benchmark indices by 14% and 27% over 3M and 6M, respectively (see exhibit 7). Concerns on various issues like environmental clearances, increasing working capital investments and order-intake drying up led to this de-rating. Though 9MFY11 revenue was below expectations/guidance, we believe Q4 should provide relief as it is a seasonally strong quarter. We expect our coverage universe to deliver 20% YoY revenue growth, 23% EBITDA growth (12% margin expansion) and 20% PAT increase. Our universe companies have bagged orders worth Rs19bn in Q4 (see Exhibit 7). We are positive on the sector given long-term infra opportunity and view that order-book momentum would accelerate on road projects and postelections in several states. We believe in current scenario, CCCL provides a better risk-reward.

- O 9MFY11 disappoints; but Q4 should be better: We expect our construction universe to clock 20% YoY revenue growth in Q4. Q4 revenue is expected to contribute 34% of FY11 revenue. We believe this is achievable as Q4 is a seasonally strong quarter and the lower-than-expected 9MFY11 performance that resulted in higher execution backlog gives comfort.
- O However, order-intake disappointed: Order-intake for the sector was a huge disappointment in Q4. Elections, scams, delayed decision-making by clients, increasing interest rates, etc, have contributed to this scenario. We believe this would have an impact on FY12 estimates. We would revisit our numbers post the Q4 results as we wait for further clarity.
- O Stocks hammered, but stabilised in past 1month: Construction stocks got de-rated as the Q2 and Q3 results were not so impressive to demand a change in stance from investors (6M decline of 27% in stock performance). However, stocks are trading at reasonable value and have stabilized to some extent in past 1month.
- Maintain positive stance on the sector, CCCL toppick: We maintain our positive stance on the sector on infra oppty and valuation. We believe, at CMP CCCL provides better risk-reward vs peers.

Current Valuations Provides Comfort

We believe current prices of construction companies provide a good long-term investment opportunity on improving dynamics and receding negative sentiments on the 9MFY11 performance. Though investors might have to wait for couple of quarters more before jumping on the bandwagon, we believe the downside is limited and the sector presents a good risk-reward ratio based on fundamentals and valuation. Among our coverage universe, we believe CCCL provides the best risk-reward compared to others and hence a better scrip to invest at the moment for stable long-term returns.

Order-intake During Q4FY11 Disappointed

Order tendering during Q4 was disappointing. This is due to the impact of investigations that several government departments faced due to scams, corruptions, etc, delaying decision making. On the private sector, increasing difficulty of getting finance and rising interest rates impacted enduser demand like real estate sector. On the basis of the orders disclosed on stock exchanges, our construction sector coverage universe bagged Rs19bn worth of orders. This is much below both our and the street expectation. However, we expect situation to improve with orders from NHAI to pick-up & governments of election states to get active.

We expect coverage universe to deliver 20% YoY revenue, 23% EBITDA and 20% profit growth YoY in Q4

With disappointing performances in 9MFY11 (due to company-specific issues in Q1FY11 and unusually better-than-expected monsoons in Q2FY11 and Q3FY11), we expect execution to improve in Q4FY11 as it is a strong quarter seasonally. Normally 35%-40% of the year's revenue is contributed in Q4. We have modeled in 34% contribution for our construction coverage universe. We believe our expectation is reasonable and not overtly negative or positive.

IVRCL Infrastructures & Projects (Buy; Target Price: Rs138)

- O Though the management in its Q2FY11 conference call lowered FY11 revenue guidance from Rs65bn to Rs62bn (down by 5%), we believe that new guidance is also at risk. We have modeled in Rs58.4bn revenue (up 6% YoY) vs street's estimate Rs60bn for FY11. Though current orderbook looks comfortable, new order-intake has been dismal during 2HFY11. We would wait for update on financial closure of road projects on IVRCL Asset & Holdings and its execution status.
- O We estimate 10.2% operating margin vs street's 9.6% as better revenue reaps benefits of operating leverage. For FY11, we expect operating margin at 9.4% (vs street's 9.3%). Our PAT estimates for Q4FY11 and FY11 are Rs1bn and Rs1,939mn, respectively, vs street's forecasts of Rs963mn and Rs1,945mn.

Nagarjuna Construction Company (Buy; Target Price: Rs150)

- Order-flow outlook is expected to be strong with power orders alone expected to bring in Rs80bn in the next 6months (including internal power project's EPC of Rs50bn of which financial closure is expected to be done in May'11).
- O Start of the year guidance of Rs73bn (consolidated) and Rs58bn (standalone) revenue for FY11 given by the management has been lowered on various issues such as better monsoon in Q2 and Q3, delays in client payment impacting execution and issues on regulatory clearances.
- O We expect Q4FY11 standalone revenue at Rs18.4bn, 6% higher than the street's estimate of Rs17.3bn. Our EBITDA margin expectation is lower at 9.7% vs street's 10.1% and in-line with management's guidance. Our net profit estimate is Rs714mn vs street's Rs685mn, higher by 4%.

Hindustan Construction Company (Buy; Target Price: Rs54)

- Order-intake for the company was muted during Q3FY11. During Q4, the company bagged few minor orders. Over and above that, management's attention was diverted on account of issues in Lavasa.
- We expect 26% YoY revenue growth in Q4FY11 to Rs12.6bn (vs the street's Rs12.5bn). Our estimates are inline with street on revenue and EBITDA margins at 12.8%. Our PAT estimate at Rs381mn is 29% below street's Rs295mn.

Era Infra Engineering (Hold; Target Price: Rs209)

- O We downgraded the stock after Q3FY11 results as order-intake was below expectations and the stock price outperformed peers. During Q4FY11, no major orders were announced and we would wait for things to improve on its order-book which stands at around 2.5X FY11 revenue.
- O We expect Q4FY11 revenue of Rs12.9bn (up 32% YoY, 27% QoQ), EBITDA at Rs2.5bn (up 26% YoY and 33% QoQ) and margin at 19%. PAT is expected to be Rs922mn (up 48% YoY, 58% QoQ).

Consolidated Construction Consortium (Buy; Target Price: Rs66)

- O We expect Q4FY11 standalone revenue at Rs7.3bn (up 14% YoY and 46% QoQ). EBITDA is expected at Rs784mn (up 8.3% YoY and 62% QoQ) and EBIDTA margin at 10.8%.
- O CCCL's stock price has remained in the range of Rs50-Rs55. We believe these levels present a good entry point for investors as the risk-reward ratio has improved and within our coverage universe provides the best risk-reward profile.

Ahluwalia Contracts (Buy; Target Price: Rs173)

- ACIL revised its FY11 revenue guidance for FY11 from Rs20bn to Rs17bn post its Q3 results. This is mainly on account of issues in real-estate segment clients (contributing around 50% of total order book).
- O For Q4FY11, we expect revenue of Rs5bn, growth of just 5% YoY and 33% QoQ, EBITDA at Rs557mn (margins of 11%) and PAT of Rs271mn (growth of 96.9% YoY and 91% QoQ).
